

TPSD Schools Announce Parents Of The Year

TUPELO, Miss. — Parent involvement at schools is essential to success, and it's one of the highlights of the Tupelo Public School District.

Many parents work tirelessly and volunteer their time to ensure various programs at all TPSD schools thrive. Without their work, many activities and clubs would not be possible or available.

Friday, each of the 12 schools recognized those parents who have gone above and beyond this school year. From this group, one will be selected in April for the TPSD Parent of the Year, and that person will be then eligible for Congressional District honors.

From those finalists, the Mississippi Department of Education will name its Mississippi Parent of the Year.
